Issue # 70 December 2012

December 2012 is Here...What Now?
by Janine Cantin

Many of you know the controversy surrounding December 21, 2012, which is the last day of the ancient Mayan calendar.

Much has been written about that day. Some say it heralds the end of the world, some say it is the end of the world as we know it.

Others say it is surely only another date, one much like the famous Y2K (January 1, 2000) when none of the terrible predictions came true.

This issue of Freedom Inside is entirely dedicated to December 2012 and its possible meaning. Some articles come from a book written in 2007 as you will see, which speaks of 12-21-12 as far into the future.

But December 2012 has arrived and I'm sitting here not knowing what is really going on. I have some thoughts about it, of course, some beliefs, some hopes. No certainty whatsoever.

So what do I do? How do I "prepare" for a date I'm not sure will mean anything other than a day between the 20th and the 22nd?

I decided to deal with this particular uncertainty as I deal with all of them. I will project my best thoughts and feelings on it.

"This issue of Freedom Inside is entirely dedicated to December 2012 and its possible meaning."

Last month, I wrote about my hope for the world. A dear friend of mine called my view a "Utopia", which, compared to a more "realistic" viewpoint, just sounds too good to be true.

But I don't believe it will do anybody any good (especially me!) to stop hoping for my utopia to come true, to stop making my own world an ideal one. I refuse to stop seeing everyone around me as part of the Divine Creation, always changing, always seeking a closer and ever closer contact with Source.

I believe in the goodness of humans because as Teilhard de Chardin wrote, I believe we are not human beings having spiritual experiences but rather spiritual beings having a human experience. We are much, much more than we know.

This, I believe.

And since this is my belief, I must live my life accordingly, trying every day of my life, to see the world as God sees it, to view it knowing we are endlessly growing into Who We Really Are.

Some of what I wrote last month sounded harsh to me even as I was writing it. Looking at anything as "evil" or "wrong" does not come from the best of me. I know it because when I do it, I don't feel good at all.

Watching the news does that to me. I too easily fall into judgment when I hear of how some of us treat others, the violence, the neglect, the indifference. It just feels "wrong" but then when I start getting angry, that feels wrong too.

One of my stronger beliefs is that the world is as it is today because we need it to be exactly as it is in order to experience ourselves as the best we can possibly be. We need the world to somehow be "less" than it can possibly be in order for us to feel we are "more" than we were before!

And if I believe that to be true, and I do, then the world is not less than it should be, it is exactly what we need it to be. It is perfect.

So here comes December 21, 2012. What do I do now?

Well, I have options here as with all else. If nothing much happens that day, well....I'll just continue living much as I am living now, which is fine with me.

If that date marks the end of the world, well....I don't have anything to worry about. I'll see you all on the other side on the 22nd.

But if December 21st is the end of the world as we know it, then what? Can I prepare for that? How can I do that when I don't know what the 22nd will look like?

I don't know what, if anything, will happen at the end of this year. I do know that these last months have seemed to bring a lot of internal shaking-up, clearing-out, and healing. It feels as though a huge Spring-cleaning has been going on inside me, actually a veritable Life-Cleaning.

Some wounds have come up for healing that I did not even know I was carrying. Very old stuff that I was dragging around with me, much as those boxes full of....whatever...that many of us keep in our closets, never opening, but carting from place to place whenever we move.

I believe that many of you have felt some of these feelings, some of the same upheavals as I did this past year.

From some of the writing about 2012, it seems the Earth, herself, is undergoing some profound changes. For whatever reasons, weather patterns seem to be changing, political unrest seems to be growing, the foundation of some financial empires seem to shift. Our personal relationships also seem to be shaken, as well as our emotions and feelings about our personal lives.

Is this due to some unseen but felt energy shift that the whole planet is undergoing? Is this due to simple coincidence? Or just to the fact that we now have more information about what is going on elsewhere in the world?

This may all be an illusion. All that energy shift, earth change, global unrest, and personal turmoil, all of it could be my imagination.

But then according to many findings from quantum physics, there may be nothing "out there" anyway. Nothing but what our own consciousness has put there.

I like to view December 2012 in exactly that light. I like to see it as our own creation, a time we have all dreamed up, a time for change. A time for my Utopia to finally start making an appearance.

Do I need it to? No. I live a happy, peaceful life, surrounded by people I love dearly, doing work that fulfills me.

I get the opportunity to look for and find the beauty in the people I have around me. Not all the time, I'm not a Master (yet!) but enough of the time to experience my connection to Source whenever I connect with others in such a divine way.

I love believing that starting December 22, 2012, a new world will be born, that people will start to see the best in each other, to celebrate our differences, to help all those in need, to live a full, joy-filled, productive, peaceful life.

I'm not expecting perfection.

Unless, or course, we change our definition of perfection. I see perfection as seeing the beauty in everyone even, maybe especially, when they do not see it themselves. Seeing the perfection in all events, even when they do not readily seem perfect.

This is the very foundation of my Utopia: knowing that the Universe is truly benevolent and so very, very loving; believing that nothing happens, absolutely nothing, unless God and our Soul agree to it; trusting the Universe; trusting that Love will "win the day" at every turn, whatever it looks like at any point.

The Bible says that we are now seeing "through a glass, darkly". I love believing that the end of 2012 will bring us closer to seeing clearly Who We Really Are, what the world is really all about. I love believing we are ever closer to living my Utopia in a more conscious way.

Whether this happens because there is a new energy in the world, whether it happens for one or for all, I do not need to know. All I need know and do is believe it is happening in my own world, feeling it within me, and seeing it all around me.

This is how I create my new world, everyday of my life. This is what I invite you to do in yours. Infuse everyone and everything around you with all the love within you, all the Love that You Are and let us each live in our own versions of Utopia.

With my very best wishes for a Happy Holiday Season and the most loving New Year.

In Peace and Happiness

"Love, if it is love, never goes away. It is embedded in us, like seams of gold in the Earth, waiting for light, waiting to be struck."
Alice Walker

Here we are in a time of immense potential for growth and change, we are told that never before have the kind of healing frequencies and Divine light vibrations been available to us that can literally change us. In order to assist us in this incredible energy and time of transformation it helps us to have the information of how we can utilize this to the best of our ability for the Highest Good of All. What does this mean for you and how can you access this for yourself?

Here is an excerpt from an article by S.Gabriel. 2012. (Available on the website - Aquarius Channelings by Wes Annac.)

"The 12:12:12 represents an activation of Divine Love within, through and around you. The 12:12:12 Activation on December 12, 2012 will bring the highest frequencies ever encoded in the Light of the Christ Consciousness to the planet for transformation of the Earth and all beings. The power of this awakening energy enables each person to have the experience of the Christ Light at the moment of the 12:12:12 Coding. Once experienced you will not fall back into old ways, as the Golden Christ Light literally expunges from your being frequencies that no longer serve you. Transformed by Light, the cells awaken to the coding embedded by your soul. This activation has been held in abeyance until the earth consciousness would support mass awakening. Awareness and preparation are key signatures for the transformation available through the Christ Light. That time is Now.....

Through the 12:12:12 there will be a sense of being reborn into unity with all aspects of you. Greet yourself with a new level of respect and honor your commitment to this life. Your willingness to proceed on the Path of Light throughout time has brought you to a completion of one aspect of your soul's journey. Your task now is to take this new fullness deeply into your being to empower you. Let the Christ Light permeate every cell and create a new healing force that will pervade your consciousness....

Begin to use this new connection to the Christ Energy, which contains the Light Force of Healing and Compassion. Bring it to all your stories, all your relationships and all the places in your life that still do not appear to radiate with all the goodness that you have imagined. Use this Golden Light to strengthen yourself with true forgiveness and compassion. No matter what is occurring, focus on the Oneness within the true Light of the Christ and bring this Divine Love and Compassion to yourself. Create a habit of doing this before any other reaction can take place and you will discover that this truly is a new time to be alive."

On December 12, 2012, the 12:12:12 Activation is an anchoring of all you held to be true within your soul.

Here is a prayer to assist the activation:

"Illuminate my heart with light, and my eyes with light and let there be light on my right and light on my left. Let there be light above me and light below me, let there be light in front of me and light behind me.

Illuminate my heart with peace, and my eyes with peace and let there be peace on my right and peace on my left. Let there be peace above me and peace below me, let there be peace in front of me and peace behind me.

Illuminate my heart with love, and my eyes with love and let there be love on my right and love on my left. Let there be love above me and love below me, let there be love in front of me and love behind me. Let there be love to the Universe, love light and peace to All."

Quotable Quote

"Smith: Why, Mr. Anderson? Why do you do it? Why get up? Why keep fighting? Do you believe you're fighting for something? For more than your survival? Can you tell me what it is? Do you even know? Is it freedom? Or truth? Perhaps peace? Yes? No? Could it be for love? Illusions, Mr. Anderson. Vagaries of perception. The temporary constructs of a feeble human intellect trying desperately to justify an existence that is without meaning or purpose. And all of them as artificial as the Matrix itself, although only a human mind could invent something as insipid as love. You must be able to see it, Mr. Anderson. You must know it by now. You can't win. It's pointless to keep fighting. Why, Mr. Anderson? Why? Why do you persist?"

Neo: Because I choose to."

By Neale Donald Walsch (2011)

Here is humanity's Old Cultural Story...as passed on to us by our parents, our teachers, our clergy, our political leaders, and everyone else whom we've counted on to know the truth. They told us...

We are born into a hostile world, run by a God who has things He wants us to do and things He wants us not to do, and will punish us with everlasting torture if we don't get the two right.

Our first experience in life is separation from our mother, the source of our life. This sets the tone and creates the context for our entire reality, which we experience to be one of separation from the Source of all life.

We are not only separate from all life, but from everything else in life. Everything that exists, exists separate from us, and we are separate from everything else that exists. We do not want it this way, but this is the way it is. We wish it were otherwise, and, indeed, we strive for it to be otherwise.

We seek to experience Oneness again with all things, and especially with each other. We may not know why, exactly, yet it seems almost instinctual. It feels like the natural thing to do. The only problem is, there does not seem to be enough of The Other to satisfy us. No matter what the Other thing is that we want, we cannot seem to get enough of it.

We cannot get enough love, we cannot get enough time, we cannot get enough money, we cannot get enough of whatever it is we think we need in order to be happy and fulfilled. The moment we think that we have enough, we decide that we want more.

Since there is 'not enough' of whatever it is we think we need to be happy, we must 'do stuff' to get as much as we can get. Things are required of us to get everything, from God's love to the natural bounty of life. Simply 'being alive' is not enough. Therefore WE, like all of life, are not enough.

Because just 'being' isn't sufficient, there's stuff that we have to do. The ones who do the 'right stuff' get to have the things that they need to be happy. If you don't do the right stuff in the right way, you don't get to 'win'. Thus, the competition begins. There's 'not enough' out there, and so, we have to compete for it.

We have to compete for everything, including God.

This competition is tough. This is about our very survival, in this contest, only the fittest survive. Only to the victor go the spoils, if you are a loser, you live a hell on Earth, and after you die, if you are a loser in the competition for God, you experience hell again—this time forever.

Death was actually created by God because our forbears made the wrong choices. In Western theologies, the Myth of Adam and Eve tells us about this.

According to the myth, humans had everlasting life in the Garden of Eden, but then Eve ate the fruit of the tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, and she and Adam were driven from the garden by an angry God, who sentenced them, and all their progeny forevermore, to death as The First Punishment. Henceforth, life in the body would be limited, and no longer everlasting, and so would the stuff of life.

Many other cultures have their own Origination Stories, and most tell the same tale: one of Separation from God for one reason or another, and thus, the loss of everlasting life.

Yet God will give us back our everlasting life if we never again break His rules. God's love is unconditional, it is only God's rewards which are not. God loves us even as he condemns us to everlasting damnation. It hurts Him more than it hurts us, because He really wants us to return home, but He can't do anything about it if we misbehave. The choice is ours.

The trick is, therefore, to not misbehave. We need to live a good life. We must strive to do so. In order to do so, we have to know the truth about God's desire and what He does not want from us. We cannot please God, we cannot avoid offending Him, if we do not know Right from Wrong. So we have to know the Truth about that.

The Truth is simple to understand and easy to know. All we have to do is listen to the prophets, the teachers, the sages, and the Source and Founder of our religion. If there is more than one religion, and therefore, more than one Source and Founder, then we have to make sure to pick the Right One. Picking the Wrong One, could result in us being a Loser.

When we pick the Right One, we are superior, we are better than our peers, because we have The Truth on our side. This state of being 'Better' allows us to claim most of the other prizes in the contest without actually contesting them.

We get to declare ourselves the Winner in the competition before the competition begins. It is out of this awareness that we give ourselves all the advantages, and write the Rules of Life in such a way that certain others find it nearly impossible to win the really big prizes.

We do not do this out of meanness, but simply in order to ensure that our victory is guaranteed—as rightly it should be, since it is those of our religion, of our nationality, of our race, of our gender, of our political persuasion, who know The Truth, and therefore deserve to be Winners.

Because we deserve to win, we have a right to threaten others, to fight with them, and to kill them if necessary, in order to produce this result.

There may be another way to live, another thing that God has in mind, another, larger Truth, but if there is, we don't know it. In fact, it is not clear whether we are even supposed to know it.

It is possible that we are not supposed to even try to know it, much less to truly know and understand God. To try is to be presumptuous, and to declare that you have actually done so is to blaspheme.

God is the Unknown Knower, the Unmoved Mover, the Great Unseen. Therefore, we cannot know the truth that we are required to know in order to meet the conditions that we are required to meet in order to receive the love that we are required to receive in order to avoid the condemnation that we are seeking to avoid in order to have the everlasting life that we had before any of this started.

Our ignorance is unfortunate, but should not be problematical. All we need to do is take what we think we DO know—our Cultural Story—on faith, and proceed accordingly.

This we have tried to do, each according to his or her own beliefs, out of which we have produced the life that we are now living, and the reality on Earth that we are creating.

NOW YOU UNDERSTAND

Okay? That's it. That is how most of the human race has it constructed. We each have our variations, but this is, in essence, how we live our lives, justify our choices, and rationalize our outcomes.

And all this made-up stuff did not come out of the air. It grew out of some very powerful illusions that appear to have been embraced by our species in the earliest days of its cognition. Or. Using an analogy I like to employ, we are as a magician who has forgotten his own tricks.

All of this has created a world in which its richest countries in 2003 spent $60 billion to help the poorest countries address the problems of poverty, lack of education, and poor health, while during the same period spending $900 billion for defense.

Let me repeat that. Sixty billions dollars to help alleviate global poverty, nine hundred billion for defense.

This led the president of the World Bank to dryly suggest that if the world simply reversed its priorities, the cost of defense would never have to exceed the smaller sum.

I bring this up here not because I think that the solution to the world's problem is economic. (I have just made the point that it is not.) I bring this up because I believe that if we solved our spiritual problem, we would not need a huge budget for defense.

We would quite naturally shift our priorities into spending those defense funds to lift the poor out of the abject misery and hopelessness that produces the frustration and rage the world now has to defend itself against.

People who aren't suffering do not attack others.

Yet the sign of a social order that is really failing is when even among those people in the world whose lives are more comfortable, violence is on an upswing.

If even those who should be contented are discontented, you know something's wrong, you know that something is fundamentally askew in the way you've got things set up. In short, you know you're in trouble. Big trouble.

All attack is a call for help. That's what A Course in Miracles declares, and I agree. If one person attacks another, it's because that first person is suffering. Violence is on an upswing not only on the streets of the Middle East, but on the streets of Europe; not only in the homes of the poor in Southeast Asia, but in the homes of the rich in North America, because of poverty. It is poverty that causes suffering.

Poverty comes in many forms. There's financial poverty, physical poverty, mental poverty, or spiritual poverty...but it is all poverty. The human experience of need is widespread, and not exclusive to the poor. To put this another way, you could say that the human experience of limitation is not limited.

Need—perceived and unmet need—is what causes violence. And need is not solved by economic or political mechanisms. Need is a spiritual ill, solved by spiritual means.

Put in the spiritual solution, and need is seen for the illusion that it is.

Example: You would not let a member of your family die of starvation, standing right at your front door. Yet we allow 400 children an hour to die of starvation on a planet where there is more than enough to feed them. The problem is, we don't think of them as members of our family.

That's a spiritual problem, plain and simple. We don't know Who We Are. If we did, we would solve not only the need of the poor at our front door, but also the affluent already seated at the table, but still striving for Bigger, Better, More.

POINTS NEALE HOPES YOU WILL REMEMBER,,,

- Our Old Cultural Story is unworkable in these days and times. It was probably always unworkable, but the more spiritually aware and spiritually sophisticated we become as a species, the more we realize how unworkable it is.
- Our ideas about how life is are based in simple, correctable spiritual misunderstandings.

ACTION NEALE HOPES YOU WILL TAKE...

- Share our Old Cultural Story with as many people as possible. Copy it or type it out, duplicate it and hand it out at your Seven Questions Discussion Group. Ask the group's members for comments on the story. Are there any parts of it that they, or you, catch yourself still living?
- Lead a discussion, write letters to editors, bring to group consciousness the present state of affairs in our world in which the globe's richest nations spend $60 billion annually to alleviate the conditions that create abject poverty and misery on our planet and that thus lead to seething frustration, anger, and, ultimately, violence against the rich—then spend $900 billion to defend themselves against that anger.

Predictions, Prophecies & Possibilities (2007)

Now we have the information, and the language, that may answer our question as to the significance of December 21, 2012. From the 8,000-year-old Hindu Vedas and the 5,000-year-old Hebrew calendar to the indigenous prophecies of Asia and the Americas, ancient traditions suggest that something really big will happen during our time in history. It is important to note that there is nothing in any of the prophecies that tells us unconditionally that the world itself will end on this date. What they do say is that the world as we have known it will enter a time of change on this date. How we respond to that change will define how we experience it and our lives in the next age of our existence.

What sets the Mayan prophecy apart from the general predictions of other cultures is that it has an expiration date that occurs in our lifetime. The last cycle of the intangible Mayan calendar corresponds to a series of tangible events, some of which are already happening today. Here is what we know for certain:

- The end of the Mayan Great Cycle marks a rare alignment of our planet, our solar system, and the center of our galaxy—one that will not occur again for another 26,000 years.
- On March 10, 2006, a cycle of solar storms ended and a new cycle began. It is predicted to peak in 2012, with an intensity 30-50 percent greater than previous cycles.
- Scientists agree that Earth's magnetic fields are weakening quickly, and some suspect that we are in the early stage of a polar reversal.
- Correlations between the magnetic fields of the Earth and human experience suggests that it is easier for us to accept change and adapt to new ideas in weaker fields of magnetism.
- Recent validation of quantum principles proves that the way we perceive our world—our beliefs about our experience—strongly influences our physical reality.

With these facts in mind, the December 21 solstice of 2012 appears to be a great cosmic window of opportunity. The opportunity is for us to benefit from our individual and collective experiences of the past 5,000 years of history, while releasing the destructive beliefs that have created disease in our bodies and limited our life span, led to the differences that have separated us, justified the great wars of history, and destroyed portions of our world. Such a possibility exists only when all of the parameters needed for such a change converge into a single window of time. The 2012 end-date appears to be just such a time.

If (1) the presence of low magnetic fields primes us to adapt to change and accept new experiences, (2) the loss of Earth's magnetic shield allows the direct influence of high-energy fields that are normally deflected to bring change, and (3) both are happening in the general time of the 26,000-year galactic alignment, then it is as if the cosmos has conspired to shower us with the power of what José Argüelles called the galactic "synchronization beam." What a rare and bizarre opportunity. How we receive this opportunity is the choice that we are making today.

In 2005, Scientific American published a special edition titled Crossroads for Planet Earth, which identified a number of scenarios that, left unchecked, hold the potential to end life on Earth as we know it today. The point of the issue was that while any one of the scenarios is catastrophic, they are all happening today. Clearly the choices of war, depletion of resources, genocide, technology abuse, and fossil fuel technology are not sustainable for another millennium. To change that way we live, we must change the way we believe. Such a change can only come from a powerful and holistic view of who we are in the universe. Of the many things that 2012 represents, it may offer an unprecedented window of precisely such an opportunity.

Are we heading toward a time of unprecedented catastrophe, 1,000 years of peace, or both? No one knows for sure. While the solar cycles and magnetic reversals are very real and have definitely happened in our ancient past, they have never happened while 6.5 billion people lived on the planet, and certainly not with the majority of those people dependent upon the technology of power grids, communications, computers, and global positioning satellites. Just as uncertainty accompanies any birth, we simply don't know what our birth into such a monumental experience may mean to life, technology, our emotions, and our bodies.

We do know, however, that ancient humans may have experienced similar, though less-intense cycles, some that may have occurred as recently as 10,000 years ago. While biblical and oral traditions suggest that such a time is certainly not "business as usual," the fact that people lived to record those cycles tells us that such events are survivable. The new discoveries linking the physics of belief with reality also tell us that how we feel about our experience has a direct effect upon what we actually experience. For our date with 2012, this suggests that if we live life focused upon all of the bad things that may happen, we will miss the joyous experiences that may actually keep those bad things from happening.

Today, when you ask the Mayan descendants what happened to their ancestors, they will tell the story of the generation of time-keepers who, one day, left their temples, observatories, and pyramids, walked into the jungles, and simply "vanished", returning to the place from where they had come. Regardless of what their story means to us, it is clear that whoever those original Maya were, they knew something in their time that we are just beginning to understand in ours. The key to their message is that their secret was more than the precise representation of time on a stone slab. The one piece of their wisdom that they could not inscribe into their hieroglyphic message is precisely the piece that gives meaning to the end of their cycle. The piece of their wisdom is us and whether we can embrace the fact that we are a family in this world, very possibly part of a greater family in the cosmos, and that the "gestation" that José Argüelles describes as our experience in history is complete.

From these perspectives, the solstice of December 21, 2012, becomes a powerful window for our collective emergence into our greatest potential. Such a moment is so rare that we have been preparing for it for over 5,000 years, and it will be

by Barbara Marx Hubbard

in The Mystery of 2012Predictions, Prophecies & Possibilities (2007)

Can we be conscious participants in our own evolution? Leading futurist, teacher, and author Barbara Marx Hubbard, the president of the Foundation for Conscious Evolution and a former nominee for the vice presidency of the United States, speaks to the evolutionary possibilities of the coming change of 2012. In the following essay, she addresses the evolution of consciousness, society, the “egoic mutants,” and the human race. She also tells us what we must do specifically to prepare for the new species we face...or might become.

Humanity is facing unprecedented, evolutionary changes. It is amazing—out of the famous Mayan prophecy has come the indication that we are facing the end of the world as we know it and the beginning of the new world by 2012. This date corresponds to environmental and social predictions of breakdowns and breakthroughs now widely known. Let’s assume there is some validity in these prophecies. What vision of the future, of the new world, might we see so that we can place our attention upon this vision as a strange attractor to carry us through this critical transition?

THE EVOLUTION OF CONSCIOUSNESS

I see a vision of the future that springs from witnessing the awesome mystery of our past—from 14 billion years of astonishing evolution, and from the genesis and unfolding of the cosmos to the present and beyond. The stunning realization is that from “no thing at all” has come everything that has been, is now, and will be. The force, intelligence, or process that produced this universe is still operative in us. We are the universe in person. We are manifestations of that mystery. We are the cosmos becoming self-reflective and attempting to understand its own origin, birth, and direction and how it can best participate consciously in the process of creation.

We are receiving guidelines for our own conscious participation in evolution. We learn from our past. How did nature evolve from subatomic particles to us? When we comprehend this new story of creation, from the first flaring forth to us now, we see a recurring pattern of ever-greater complexity, bringing forth ever-higher consciousness and freedom. From atom to molecule to cell to animal to human, to the Buddha and Christ and so many others, to us now, we are at the threshold of devolution or transformation. “Evolution arrow,” as John Stewart calls it, has manifested a progression toward more-comprehensive whole systems through ever-greater cooperation and synergy, quantum jump by quantum jump. Herein lies the foundation of our hope for an immeasurable, ever-evolving future.

We also notice that crises precede transformation. Problems are evolutionary drivers. Intensifying pressure leads either to devolution and extinction or evolution and transformation. This is one reason that 2012 might be earthshaking and shocking to some. Furthermore, we see that evolution creates radical newness. Life out of prelife, human life out of animal life. Is it possible that from our species, a new human and a new humanity are now emerging? We can see the sequence from Homo habilis, homo erectus, Homo Neanderthal, Homo sapiens, to Homo sapiens sapiens. Why should it stop with us? Is it possible that a new species has been gestating in the womb of self-consciousness through the great avatars, mystics, and visionaries for thousands of years, and that now, due to the crisis, this new human is being born in millions of us? It has been predicted as a Homo progressivus (Teilhard de Chardin), Gnostic human (Sri Aurobindo), Homo sapiens sapiens sapiens (Peter Russell), Homo noeticus (John White), Homo universalis (my own favorite name). It is possible that the basic shift point in this prophecy is the emergence of the “universal human,” by whatever name it is called, as a “new norm.” Perhaps we will reach critical mass for this human by 2012.

The fact is we see ourselves coming to the end of the viability and even survivability of ourselves in our current stage of self-centered self-consciousness. We are becoming “egoic mutants,” as Alan Lithman calls current leadership, gaining powers we used to attribute to gods while we remain in the same state of consciousness as our ancestors.

If we imagine ourselves only a few years in the future, even by 2012, providing we do not destroy ourselves first, we see the outlines of a vastly enhanced humanity, applying the growing edge of human consciousness, capacities, and evolutionary technologies to life-affirming goals, resulting in a quantum transformation of the human species itself.

All the major spiritual traditions originated before we had any notion of the evolutionary process, of the billions of galaxies, of the fact that Earth is not the center of the universe, but a small planet revolving around a sun in the midst of a multidimensional universe of awesome mystery. They also all originated before we gained the power to cause our own extinction or transformation, before the advent of conscious evolution, as we are now being called upon to understand how to sustain and fulfill the potential of life on Earth. Something new is happening.

The first element of my vision of humanity is that Homo sapiens is giving birth within many of us to a more “universal human,” a human who will eventually be as different from us as we are from the Neanderthal.

This universal human comes from every race, nation, religion, and discipline. Some of the qualities of its being are now becoming apparent. A universal human feels connected through the heart to the whole of life and is awakened from within by a passionate and loving desire to express unique creativity for the good of the self and the whole. For this emerging human, the veil between dimensions of reality is thinning. We are becoming multidimensional beings, having expanded reality and peak experiences, receiving higher guidance and epiphanies vital to guide evolution now. The universal human is developing evolutionary consciousness and evolutionary spirituality that will give us a cosmic whole organism, scientifically and spiritually based in awareness. In addition as women have fewer children and live longer lives, we are shifting from maximum procreation toward cocreation, from self-reproduction toward self-evolution through life purpose and creative self-expression in the world. Men, in their own way, are experiencing this same inner evolution. We are all participating in what Carl Jung called the continuing incarnation of the Self. The Self we projected outward upon the gods is coming home as our own development potential.

FREE BOOKS FOR PRISONERS

• NEW BOOKLET OFFERED:

As of today, I have been allowed to offer you a printed copy of the booklet, BRINGERS OF THE LIGHT, that completes the list of concepts found in ReCreating Your Self. This will be about 20 double-sided and stapled pages. Again, make sure you are allowed to receive these many copies before requesting Bringers of the Light

Neale Donald Walsch along with Em Claire, whose poems are in the book, have generously offered to donate to any prisoner who is interested. Make sure you let me know if you are allowed to receive hard cover books or not.

• When Everything Changes, Change Everything (WECCE)

Sorry, but the WECCE book is out of print for now. I am hoping to get more in a few months.

ALSO, you can still receive a free copy of the booklet,

- ReCreating Your Self
- WECCE Workbook

The WECCE Workbook is a downloaded edition, a 75 page book that can be copied and mailed to you. Please make sure you can receive so many copied pages as some prisons do not allow more than 15 copies or so in one mailing.

A VISION FOR HUMANITY

THE EMERGING SYNERGY OF PLANETARY EVOLUTION

Let's place this emerging human in the context of planetary evolution of 2012. We can see that every system is breaking down—health care, environmental, economic, governmental, and so forth. We also notice, if we look carefully, that innovations and creative solutions are arising in every field. Although disconnected, underfunded, and undercommunicated, they are nonetheless here now and do function.

We learn from Ilya Prigogine, the Nobel prize-winning chemist, that when systems become more dysfunctional, they tend to use ever more of their energy in handling their own dysfunctionalities. At the same time, mutations or social innovations crop up throughout the system. Nature has a tendency to converge upon that which is creative, to manifest new whole systems at a higher degree of order. We are not very far, right now, from the possibility of the nonlinear, exponential interaction of innovating elements, leading to the transformation or our social systems. The very crises we are facing are causing innovations and breakthrough solutions, which are even now networking and connecting. With just one more degree of the networking of the networks, we are approaching a breakthrough in “co-intelligence,” in the collective capacity of that which is emergent, compassionate, and creative.

It is my intuition that as we mature as a universal species, we will learn resonance and mass connectivity here on Earth. Through a more harmonious order, we will be in touch with whatever other life there may be in the universe. Instead of contact with alien cultures, I foresee us attracting higher life that has dimensions of our own higher state of being. If we do not mature ethically, even with all our high technology, we won't make it through the next stage of our evolution. If we learn ethical conscious evolution, our morality and compassion will have evolved beyond the current warring humanity. This may be the viability test for our birth into universal life. If and when we learn to love one another, to resonate with the higher aspects of our own being, my sense is that we will find that we are in a universe full of life, that we are reproducing and evolving Earth life in a universe of fabulous diversity, and that our species itself will diversify and multiply like star seeds through the universe.

Beyond that, I can see that “God is reproducing godlings.” We are to become cocreators with the process of creating until we have joined together with others doing the same in a universe that is infinite and self-creating through all of us—worlds without end.

HOW DO WE GET READY FOR 2012?

Realize that the higher self, the inner voice, is you. Bring your projections home as your own developmental potential. Ask that deeper self to take dominion within your personality selves, and shift your identity from your ego to your essence. This is the key step to being born as a more universal human. Then, find life purpose. As to know what you are born to do. Follow the compass of joy. Seek out those who affirm the highest in you. Where two or more are gathered in the name of that highest dimension or your being there, “I Am” is in your midst. Everyone is needed. Everyone is called. The greatest blessings any one of us can have is to say “yes” to the dormant potential within us. Reach out to those who attract you, and connect with as many others doing the same as you possibly can.

PRAYER FOR THE WORLD

By Marianne Williamson
From Illuminata, A return to Prayer

Dear God,

There is so much danger in the world today.
There is so much insanity, so much darkness and fear.
Our human resources are not enough to counter the evil on our streets and in our minds.

Dear God,

Please send a miracle,
into every country and every home,
into every mind and every heart,
may the power of your spirit now trigger the light,
activate our holiness, remind us of the truth within.

May a great love now encompass us, a deep peace give us solace.

For Lord,
we live in fearful times,
and we long for a new world.

We surrender what is, to the bonfire of your genius.

Refine this metal.
Refashion our creations.
Remind us of the eternal truths.
Return to us our native grace.

Take back what we have kept and thus condemned.

For You are mighty, Lord, and can do what we cannot.

May the world be reborn.

Help us forgive and leave the past behind us,
the future to be directed by You.
Halleluja, for You have the power.
Praise and thanksgiving,
as You use it to save us,
to heal us, to lift us from the past.

And we accept.
Thank You very much

Amen

CHOICE POINT 2012

another 26,000 years before the same opportunity cycles around again. As the source of our light—our sun—moves into perfect alignment with the center of our galaxy, are we ready to receive the greatest gift of all—the gift of our true selves? The stage is set, the choice is ours, the cosmos is waiting. Do we have the wisdom to marry science, history, tradition, and belief into the miracle that awaits us on December 21, 2012?

Dearest Light People of Terra,

The times, they are a-changing, as Bob Dylan crooned - never more so than now! So many of us are getting confronted with challenging circumstances, as the accelerated energies of 2012 kick in. My personal experience is that it is not possible to avoid these challenges, ostrich-style ... but it IS possible to make the transition through them and out the other side by choosing to constantly step back into our centers and experience ourselves BEING, so that our doing in the world is transformed.

In the lead-up to the 12.12.12 - 21.12.2012 portal, my guides are advising to do the 12.12.12 meditation. In practicing this myself I have found that the step in which we work with healing collective thought forms in the fourth dimension is extremely helpful on a personal level. Realizing how our own individual thoughts contribute to the collective consciousness that is being birthed is vital! The Pleiadian Councils of Light explain another crucial element of the meditation here:

'If you seek to awaken and come into perfect balance and enlightenment through searching upwards only in the direction of your guides and angels, the higher dimensions and star people, you will not succeed in coming into the required state of consciousness. You MUST, absolutely must remember that it is the planet herself, and in particular at this time, the core crystal of your planet, that requires your attention - that needs to connect with you, and for you to connect with her.

For it is not only 'As above, so below', it is also 'As below, so above' - and this half of the equation is often forgotten by the Earth people of Gaia. The Core Crystal at this time is in a process of regeneration and she is assisted by the Star People, the Councils of Light, by Kuthumi, and by all of those within the Order of Melchizedek that are part of the Divine Plan for the transformation of your planet into a higher dimensional being. All of these rain energy down into the Core Crystal, so that she may regenerate and assist in the reactivation of all levels of Light Grids on your planet. But without your assistance - without your conscious connection with the Core Crystal, the plan cannot come to fruition effectively at this time.

The meditation which has been given for the 12.12.12 and 21st of December - this is one in which you spend time connecting through love, gratitude and respect with the Core Crystal - for this emotional connection is needed rather than any form of technical connection, you understand. Once your heart is open to the Core Crystal, and truly feeling her as a being, you are able to send energy down to assist her, which is just as effective as the energy that we send down to assist her. You will receive benefits untold from this action of yours - because as you connect on a One-Heart consciousness level with the Core Crystal, so she is able to activate you in such a way that you stay in 3-D while receiving higher dimensional codes. We ask you to practice the meditation given, in which your connection with and activation of the Core Crystal precedes your assisting Her with sending Her Light energy and healing vibration through the second, third and fourth dimensions. The healing of these 3 dimensions assists in the portal which is now in the process of creation, connecting the very core of your planet with the fifth dimensions and higher. This assists in the birthing which takes place now.'

MEDITATION

Close your eyes, dear Light people of Gaia. Close your eyes, moving into that inner world of Light and infinite space which exists within your consciousness. Open your hearts now dear ones, by activating your crystalline prana tubes, visible and perceptible as a crystalline flowing tube through your 12 chakras, spinning upwards into the Great Central Sun and downwards into the Great Mother's core crystal. Visualize golden-white Light flowing in from above and below, activating your One-Heart centers. You feel this golden-white Light; the Love of Source energy from above and below activating your One-Hearts, unifying you in your consciousness right now so that you connect with the One-Heart consciousness of all others on the planet Earth now. Acknowledging that the One-Heart is awakened only in those who hold sufficient Light, and only in those who are in Divine service to Gaia and Her tribe of humans now.

Pleiadian Councils of Light direct you now in a visualization which brings your reality into fruition - your chosen reality. Visualize now dear ones, your planet. Visualize this blue-green planet in front of you as though you were able to hold the planet like a great ball between your two hands. Visualize the planet spinning in front of you in all of its beauty and grace - and through the process which we guide you in now, you will assist in clearing the energy of your planet. You will assist in clearing the energy, both within the planet Herself; within Her body - and within the aura which She projects out into the galaxy.

Seeing the planet in front of you now, make contact with her crystalline core; with the great core crystal within Her heart, feeling this as the heart itself of Her being; the heart which beats and pulses the rhythm of Her Light. The great core crystal stays always in its integrity – it is not compromised by pollution of any sort, physical or thought form. And so it is from the core crystal itself that you will now project healing golden-white Light-wave forms through the body of the planet. Your One-Hearts open now, project your love into the Core crystal in the centre of the Earth, forming your hands into a namaste, bowing your heads and greeting the Core Crystal with great love and respect, acknowledging this great powerful Being as the source of all life within the planet and upon Her surface, including your own life form, your own body, and all which is in the third dimension visible around you.

As you bow your heads, namaste'ing to the Core Crystal - acknowledging Her, pouring your love and respect into Her, feeling the love and respect from all others in your Light tribe flowing into Her simultaneously as you all do this meditation - you will feel Her empowered and starting to resonate with you and all of your Light tribe. And together you ask Her to emanate more powerfully now Her healing vibrations through the second dimensional realm. Visualize her power now moving through the crystalline beds, through the crystal and mineral kingdoms within the body of Gaia, through the telluric forces, electromagnetic fields, through the lava flows, through all forces within the body of Earth, through the soil itself which has been compromised.

Visualize the Inner Earth now being filled with this golden-white Light emanating from the core crystal. Visualize the cities of Light within Gaia receiving this healing energizing vibrational wave now. Connecting with the beings who live in the Cities of Light within, allowing them to feel your love and respect also. Waves of rainbow colors now start to emanate from the crystals within Mother Earth; waves of indigo, violet, blue, green, yellow, orange, red Light emanating now from the crystal beds. And all of you who do this meditation now, through the timeline, through the time zones, all of you united with One-heart, one purpose, to energize the core crystal, encouraging Her to send Her waves through all aspects of Inner Earth which have been compromised.

And now coming to the aspect of the Earth's aura, of that energy field which emanates from the surface of Mother Earth into the air and the atmosphere in which you reside in the third dimension. Allowing these healing waves of golden-white Light to be experienced within the aura of Mother Earth now – feeling these waves of healing Light moving through the water element; through the streams and rivers and oceans of Gaia. Through the earth element; plants and trees, flowers and fields, woods and forests, plains and deserts, mountains and valleys, rolling hills and plains. Feeling this healing Love vibration stimulated from your united One-Hearts and by the great Core Crystal clearing the air itself, clearing all aspects of the elements of 3-D which have been polluted.

Moving further still now, into the fourth dimension – moving into that dimension which holds the collective consciousness; the thought forms of all Earth beings. Dissolving the thought forms of the old world, of the Piscean Age – dissolving all thought forms of unworthiness, of polarity, of good and evil, of the war which has been. Bringing hope to those who have lost hope, bringing the seeding of Unity Consciousness to those who feel themselves utterly separated one from another. Bringing the hope & the possibility of peace to all those who have moved beyond hope.

Through this process, dear ones, you clear all negativity and pollution in the second, third and fourth dimensions – reconnecting the first dimension of your planet, the great Core Crystal, with the fifth dimension into which vibration you now move. Through your intentions, your visualization, your open hearts – and through this etheric healing which you project now into the troubled dimensions, you make fifth dimensional Christ consciousness more accessible to those around you – to those who are awake, to those who are awakening and to those who slumber still - for there is hope now for all on your planet! The ability to awaken is possible now for all on your planet – those who have held the agenda for the Divine Plan of ascension of Gaia, and those who have fought against it. For in these changing times there is hope for all. As the systems collapse left and right, there is awakening possible for all on your planet.

Do this daily, dear ones, in the lead-up to the 12-12-12, with this meditation sound-track or not – simply visualize your blessed blue-green planet as if you can hold it like a ball in front of you. Namaste to the great Core Crystal, the source of all life in your system. And activating your One-hearts, opening your prana tubes above and below, pour your Love and gratitude into this crystalline matrix, allowing the crystalline flow of energy which emanates from it to transmute all negativity within the Earth, within Her aura, within the fourth dimension of the collective unconscious - in this way allowing access between yourselves and the fifth dimensional frequencies of love and harmony to be more accessible to all.

Star-being frequency is transmitted to you and all through this momentous year of 2012.

In love and gratitude to you for your service,

Namaste,

Solara An-Ra
